

Re'ut Reflections

Mid October Edition

Thoughts From The Week

We have been teaching about the Holidays using the Montessori method! We made our own Sukkas from shoe boxes! First we practiced the skills of cutting, gluing, and painting. We then put them together by cutting the brown paper on one tray, gluing the papers onto the shoebox, and taking the painting tray to paint the inside.

Isolating each step helps them master all the different skills. They topped off their Sukka by putting on fresh branches. I hope you've enjoyed the Chagim and had great family time! We will be starting a geography and cosmic unit which I'm sure the children will enjoy.

Reminders:

- When the weather calls for rain, please remember to send your child to school with a rain coat and rain boots.

TORAH AURA

We read a book titled, "A Watermelon in the Sukkah" and ate lunch in our sukkah! We shook and blessed a real lulav and esrog. We studied how it represents the parts of our bodies that we can use to make our world better. The tall lulav is like our spine, the myrtle our eyes, the willow our lips, the esrog is our heart.

The Giving Tree

- Thank you to the Elbaz, Buma and Spencer families for building our beautiful Sukkah,
- Thank you to Eva and Dan Marx for our fall flowers and gourds.
