

Re'ut Reflections

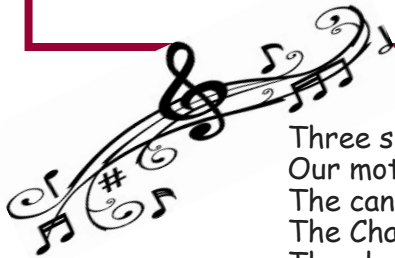

Start of November Edition

Thoughts From The Week

As the leaves are falling and acorns are everywhere, we knew it was time for a nature walk! We had so much fun collecting all different types and color leaves in the great outdoors. We listened to all the sounds around us and spotted different shapes. Some children have pasted their finds on large sheets of paper, others have painted over them, and some have just enjoyed looking at their collection.

An exciting item which has just come in the mail is our brand new phonogram booklets. Children have already started learning the phonogram 'ay' and have practiced reading words with it. Have a restful Shabbat!

Songs from our class

Three special things, (2x)
Our mother Sarah does bring,
The candles we light on Friday night,
The Challah that tastes just right,
The cloud that lights up the night!
Three special things

Reminders:

With the temperatures dropping, please be sure to send your children to school in warm clothes. Send rainboots, too, if you have them!

TORAH AURA

The values in the Torah leap from the tiny scroll into our classroom. Avraham and Sarah welcomed guests and so do we- we welcomed Yael and gave her a sip of tea. Rivka gave 10 camels water to drink. We studied how camels don't drink often, but when they do, they might drink 30 gallons at a time! We love being kind like Rivka.
